

Glow and Grow Celebration!

We know we're just beginning,
We know the path is long,
But to skip a publishing celebration?
Well, that just seems so wrong!

We've finished the writing process,
Our very first time through:
Collecting entries, drafting, revising,
Editing, and publishing too.

After our very first attempt,
We'll celebrate our start
At living writerly lives
And exploring our writers' hearts.

This celebration starts a journey,
With so many ways to grow,
But for one brief hour,
We'll take this chance to glow.

Please come join us at our very first author's celebration as we share our first personal narratives. The theme of our celebration is "Glow and Grow" at this early stage in our third grade writing trajectory.

When: Thursday, October 1st, 10:30-11:00 am
